DID YOU KNOW ?

MANNA HILL, SA

Manna Hill (or Mannahill) is one of the eastern most settlements in South Australia which started as a stock route and gold mining town. The Manna Hill Hotel was built in 1889 and still stands as a testimony to a classic outback town.

Manna Hill lies about 310 kms north-east of Adelaide on the Barrier Highway.

Some Australian state borders have not opened at the time of this newsletter and every state has different border regulations. Please check with the authorities for quarantine requirements before travel

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM AROUND

MINING BAN

The Queensland State Government has imposed a 12-month moratorium on new small mining claims which affect residents mining on opal and gem fields. This is part of a review for the proposed Queensland resources industry development plan.
